Priority Health Needs

Increase Healthy Eating and Active Living - Reduce consumption of sugar-sweetened beverages, improve access to fresh fruits and vegetables, and promote physical activity in schools and community based settings. Educate and inspire children, teens, and adults to make healthier choices.

Increase Access to Care - Increase access to health care and coverage for low-income and uninsured people - assuring adequate availability in Spanish.

Increase Asthma Prevention and Management - Help people get screened and referred to health services, reduce health emergencies resulting from asthma, and increase awareness about the impact of pollution while advancing management of asthma in community based settings.

Increase Access to Peri-Natal Care - Help low-income women get access to and information on pre-conception, pre-natal, and post-partum services and self-care.

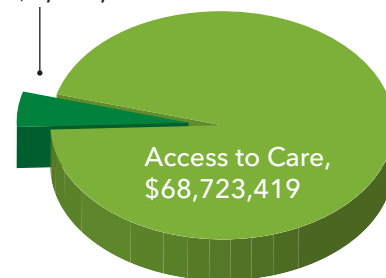

Examples of the Difference We Make

Monument Impact received a $500,000 grant to support Healthy Eating Active Living (HEAL) Zone activities in the Monument community such as improving snack and beverage options at local youth baseball games; a walking audit that led to sidewalk and signal changes; implementing Zumba and cooking classes; and, improving nutrition and physical activity options in local childcare settings.

In east Contra Costa County, Contra Costa Health Services received $50,000 to support Healthy Families America, which provides home visitation for pregnant and post-partum women, with a focus on African American women, to ensure they are enrolled in appropriate prenatal programs and that they receive long-term, supportive case management.
